

Geoff Roth

Inside an International Takedown

📅 Tuesday, May 6th, 2:30-3:30 pm

📍 Dupuis 217

Abstract

Coordination between international police agencies is the cornerstone to combating cybercrime, a global threat. Public press releases do not accurately reflect all the background work needed for a successful takedown of a criminal enterprise. Hear a detailed account of the work done by the RCMP during the 2021 global takedown of the botnet EMOTET.

Biography

Geoff Roth is a senior IT technical advisor at the RCMP, where he has been for 22 years. As a civilian member, he has worked on numerous criminal investigations and built digital forensics and intercept technology tools to assist investigations. In 2019, he joined the Federal Policing Cybercrime program and is currently the manager of the Technical Team at the RCMP headquarters.